Profile

Currently enrolled in a Computer Games Technology course at Birmingham City University, now in the second year and seeking a placement role to gain practical workplace experience. Frequently working in a social environment on campus, where communication is a key focus. Experience presenting multiple times at the university has contributed to building confidence in conveying ideas.

Experience

University Game Jam (September 2024)

- Attended BCU's 6-hour Welcome Week Game Jam on the 20th of September, where 30 members of all years of the course competed. The team succeeded in winning the game jam.
- Collaborated with 2 members of other academic years to make a 3d Platformer in Unreal Engine 5.
- Responsible for the level design of the game and assisted both teammates with building the character and scripting in UE5's blueprint system.
- Recognized the importance of clear communication and made it a priority to discuss any issues with the team as soon as they arose.
- Discussed avoiding potential code conflicts in the future, and staying aligned with our core design pillars, which ultimately helped us deliver a fully playable, successful game by the end of the jam.
- The team worked under a kanban methodology where the team would keep track of features that are yet to be in development, currently in development and tested and completed features.

Esports Level Driver for Elusive Motorsport (ESV) in the Forza franchise (June 2023 – current)

- Joined ESV in June 2023, months after entering the Forza Horizon competitive scene in November 2022.
- Notable achievements include:
 - Runner-up finish in Racing Haven's Endurance Championship (RHEC) Season 1 on Forza Horizon.
 - Championship win in season 2 of RHEC on Forza Motorsport.
 - Ranked #1 in Team Wars Forza Motorsport ELO ranking.
- Extensive experience in communication has been gained, including assisting lower-level drivers in league environments.
- Relationships within the community are maintained through social pages, where content is posted and streamed.

Moderator for Racing Haven (September 2023 – current)

- Along with general server management and moderation, involvement includes testing car balance of performance for esports championships.

- United with other drivers over a 12-week period to test and assess each car. Every two weeks, a week is dedicated to working with peers, organizing car builds, and testing performance to determine if adjustments are needed to make the cars faster or slower.
- The experience developed during this role have greatly improved gauging time to complete tasks, and prioritisation.

Thorough experience with the Forza Horizon Event Lab creator
